Projects

Movie site

I build this site as a clone of the movie database. Its functions are to help users quickly get the latest and the most trending tv shows and series(for more please visit my portfolio website)

Food Site

This site is for people that love cooking and want to try food made in other countries, it contains the recipe, measurements, ingredients and many more...

ArtVista

This is a site for people who love art like myself. It portrays art but different countries and periods.

Summary

Dedicated and proactive problem solver aspiring to contribute as a junior Front-End Developer. With a keen focus on time management and a relentless work ethic, I am poised to become a proficient Web Developer and a software Engineer. I'm eager to bring my positive energy, collaborative spirit, and commitment to leverage this opportunity to acquire new skills, share knowledge, and realize my professional goals.
